

SOWAREEN Solutions AG

Solid Waste Management and Renewable Energies

SOWA Engineering GmbH founded.

Jena, February 20, 2015 - SOWAREEN Solutions AG, headquartered in Pfaffikon/Switzerland continues its development in Solid Waste Management with the founding of SOWA Engineering GmbH.

"Made in Germany" technology

Based in Jena/Germany, the company will provide engineering services for the Group for designing facilities and patent registration. Technical Director of the SOWA Engineering GmbH, Dr. Ing. Hartwig Streitenberger, the inventor of a method for the gasification of biomass and carbon-based waste protected by several international patents.

SOWA TCP®

This method, called the SOWA TCP® ("SOWA Thermolytic Cracking Process") was under a license concession agreement with INTEC Micro powder AG of Berlin/Germany for the last 3 years which ended on 2/2/2015; with the engineering supervised under the "INTEC TCP®" label.

The new subsidiary SOWA Engineering GmbH, has entirely taken over this department. Thus, assuring the quality of ongoing and future projects of the Group, continuity of the construction of our synthesis gas equipment, including the further development of the SOWA TCP® process technology and other technologies optimized and secured in house.

SOWAREEN Solutions AG - Solid Waste Management and Renewable Energies.

SOWAREEN SOLUTIONS AG is your expert partner for

- sustainable waste management cycles
- renewable energy cycles
- environmentally friendly waste-to-energy solutions

The company was founded in 2014 in the form of a public limited liability company under Swiss law.

We are structurally linked with our strategic technology partners and partners in the capital market, and hence believe that we can offer complex solutions to the international market in our core areas (or solution segments).

As a general contractor, we build large-scale plants in our solution segment.

As an operator, we are responsible and liable for the long-term operation of our solutions on site and in collaboration with local partners, which are administered in the legal form of special-purpose entities. We are open as an investor for both PublicPrivatePartnership models (PPP) with governments and municipalities, as well as for collaborations with other companies.

Contact:

SOWAREEN Solutions AG
Churerstrasse 47
CH-8808 Pfäffikon
Switzerland

Email: contact@sowareen.com

Website: www.sowareen.com