Protection for the light

Protection for the GS headlight from Wunderlich

Wunderlich has the perfect protection for the main headlight of the current R 1200 GS. The motorcycle specialists from the Rhein have created a headlight protector out of visually clear and almost indestructible PMMA acrylic plastic. Here's what makes it special: The protector can be folded down by hand in one go for rides in the purview of the StVZO and to clean the headlight. The screen attaches to the original points via a coated and robust holder set and doesn't cause any glare or reflections.

There's also the option to receive the foldable protection with a robust, coated grid apparatus. Both versions of the headlight protector are completely Made in Germany, cost €99.90 each and come with all attachment parts and a five year guarantee.
