Fujitsu's New Premium Selection Makes it Easy to Select the Best

New channel configurations provide top-of-the-line Fujitsu LIFEBOOK notebooks, Fujitsu ESPRIMO PCs, and Fujitsu CELSIUS workstations

Regensdorf, September 19, 2011 – For customers where only the best will do, Fujitsu today introduces for the first time a special selection of LIFEBOOK notebook configurations for channel partners which complete the Fujitsu premium selection lineup. Now featuring high-end Fujitsu LIFEBOOK notebooks, ESPRIMO PCs and CELSIUS workstations, the premium selection is available exclusively for Fujitsu channel partners as part of the value4you program.

The premium selection is designed to help end customers easily distinguish and choose the highest possible system specifications, offering competitively-priced, factory-configured Fujitsu computing products for the workplace that pick the best from every option. Every model also ships with a valuable bundle of software applications.

The Fujitsu premium selection line LIFEBOOK notebooks, ESPRIMO desktops and CELSIUS workstations come with factory-standard range-topping specifications such as additional system memory, high-speed solid state drives (SSDs) and ultra-fast processors, plus NVIDIA graphics in CELSIUS workstations. No detail is overlooked; premium selection desktop systems come complete with an elegant spill-resistant Fujitsu KB900 keyboard and the stylish Fujitsu GL9000 laser mouse.

In introducing the premium selection, Fujitsu is enabling its channel partners to tap into growing market demand for feature-rich, high-performance IT equipment such as the recently-introduced LIFEBOOK P771 ultra-portable notebook, the stylish ESPRIMO Q900 mini PC and the portable new 17-inch CELSIUS H910 mobile workstation. Depending on the local market, customers can choose from up to 13 different premium selection systems.

Channel manager says: «In our ongoing attempt to make life easier for our SELECT Partner Program members, and to give them opportunities for growth, Fujitsu has developed the premium selection. This introduces great value high-end configurations across the board, enabling Fujitsu partners to offer their customers special and exclusive products, as well as boosting margins thanks to choosing factory-configured systems.»

To make marketing the premium selection as easy as possible for partners, Fujitsu provides a range of supporting tools including a presentation, a backgrounder, custom premium selection data sheets, plus advertising and banner templates.

The Fujitsu premium selection is available via Fujitsu channel partners in the CEMEA&I region (Continental Europe, Middle East, Africa & India). Pricing varies according to country.
