

Delta Electronics Appoints Dalip Sharma as President and Regional Head for Delta Electronics Europe, Middle East & Africa Region

Delta, a global provider of power and thermal management solutions, has appointed Dalip Sharma to the role of President & Regional Head for Delta Electronics Europe, Middle East & Africa (EMEA) region. Mr. Sharma will be responsible for enhancing Delta's growing presence in EMEA, a key region for Delta's worldwide business development. He is based in Hoofddorp, the Netherlands, home to Delta EMEA's headquarters.

Commenting on his appointment, Mr. Sharma stated: “My vision for Delta EMEA is to further develop its status as a provider of IoT-based Smart Green Solutions developed to drive energy efficiency and lower carbon emissions in cities across EMEA. To realise that vision, I believe that we can leverage Delta’s formidable global resources to further accelerate the company’s growth and success across EMEA.”

While Europe, Middle East and Africa are some of the world’s most diverse regions with numerous untapped opportunities, they are also among its most complex. Mr. Sharma’s vision is to work with Delta’s internal and external partners to implement strategies and local-market focus tailored to the needs of each territory, as they are strategic for Delta’s future growth.

Delta’s resources and unparalleled engineering expertise, will enable Mr. Sharma and his team to respond successfully to the needs of customers in EMEA, by localizing products and tailoring support to suit the market’s requirements. To ensure Delta’s competitiveness in the EMEA region, another key priority for Mr. Sharma will be to nurture innovation and agility within Delta, in order to respond to an ever-changing and evolving market and business landscape.

Mr. Sharma is an Electronics and Communications engineering professional with more than 27 years of experience and success in business execution, management and strategic development. His wealth of experience has been gained from working with pioneering companies prior to joining Ascom Energy Systems in 1999. Mr. Sharma joined Delta in 2003, when it acquired Ascom Energy Systems. In his previous role, Mr. Sharma acted as Managing Director of Delta India, and successfully led the company to become the market leader in various business areas by consistently delivering a strong performance over the years.

Mr. Sharma was appointed to the role of President & Regional Head for Delta Electronics Europe, Middle East & Africa Region due to his proven and exceptional leadership qualities, and the pivotal role he has played in the continued success and development of the organization. Delta is confident that his skills and talents will ensure that he will deliver great value, while succeeding in further driving the progression and execution of the Delta’s corporate strategy both now and in the future.
