

EVOCEAN Partners with Perforce Software to Deliver Enterprise-level Version Management in Switzerland and Liechtenstein

Agreement enables EVOCEAN customers to build a collaborative and scalable development environment.

28 October 2011, Rotkreuz/Switzerland: EVOCEAN GmbH today announced a new technology partnership with Perforce Software to provide the Perforce version management platform in Switzerland and Liechtenstein. The relationship represents a shared vision to facilitate collaboration between teams of developers and to seamlessly support distributed development environments.

“Many organisations in Switzerland and Liechtenstein are quality driven market leaders and need to constantly innovate and drive agility also in their development efforts,” says Philip Zollinger, proprietor of EVOCEAN. “These companies need a robust and high-performance version management platform to meet the increasing challenge to deliver evermore faster in future. We are pleased to extend our portfolio to address this need with Perforce.”

Addressing the changing nature of collaborative development, Perforce Software and EVOCEAN will be working to address the core development needs of customers in Switzerland and Liechtenstein and will gain a better understanding of the issues customers face in the market to help drive future innovations.

Says Dave Robertson, VP International at Perforce Software, “By working with EVOCEAN, we can ensure that our customers in Switzerland and Liechtenstein can obtain Perforce Software products and services from a trusted local source. EVOCEAN augments our existing and extensive experience in helping our customers manage sophisticated development projects.”
