

PRESS RELEASE

Empolis repeats its success by being included in two international top 100 rankings

Kaiserslautern, March 4, 2014 – Empolis Information Management GmbH, provider of smart information management software, continues its successful series and remains one of the most important companies in knowledge management worldwide.” It has once again been included in the prestigious list of KMWorld's 100 Companies That Matter In Knowledge Management. The annual list appears in the March issue of KMWorld magazine, America’s leading publication on knowledge management, and is compiled based on discussions with users, experts, analysts and providers, as well as their customers and employees.

As in 2012, EContent included Empolis on its prestigious list of “The 100 Top Companies in the Digital Content Industry,” published in December 2013. Empolis is one of just three European software companies that currently appears on both lists.

“Empolis has proven to define the spirit of practical innovation by blending sparkling technology with a deep, fundamental commitment to customer success,” says Hugh McKellar, KMWorld editor-in-chief.

“For us, as a German software company, it is a significant achievement to be included on both international lists at the same time,” says Empolis CEO Dr. Stefan Wess. “Particularly in view of our smart information management approach, that intelligently links content and knowledge management, this is a welcome confirmation of our work.”

About Empolis Information Management

Empolis Smart Information Management® Software allows for comprehensive creation, management, analysis, intelligent processing and provision of all information relevant to a company's business processes. Empolis is one of just three European software companies to be included both on EContent's list of the "100 Top Companies in the Digital Content Industry" and in "KMWorld's 100 Companies That Matter In Knowledge Management". This clearly reinforces Empolis' approach of uniquely combining knowledge and content management according to the Empolis motto "the right information, at the right time, to the right person, on the desired device." Empolis was also named "Big Data Leader 2013" by the Experton Group.

Many notable national and international companies and public sector institutions rely on Empolis solutions, based on more than 25 years of industry and process experience. Currently, around 500 Empolis installations exist around the world, and nearly 620,000 professional users rely on Empolis solutions on a daily basis to serve approximately 34 million end customers.

Empolis acts as a driving force in the development of innovative products and industry standards, participating in national and international research and development projects. Empolis is also an associate of the DFKI (German Research Center for Artificial Intelligence) and a member of the Fraunhofer IAIS (Institute for Intelligent Analysis and Information Systems) advisory board.
