

MMM Group – Global range of performance:

Unbeatable price-performance ratio thanks to perfect project management

Even in times of short money in health care, MMM Group has been able to increase their sales and turnover to two-digit amount. MMM Group realizes all-in solutions for sterile processing. Particularly in the field of their core business of live preserving technology, MMM Group stands for customer proximity on all levels and in all areas of their range of products and services.

Again and again, planning agencies and customers praise the perfect project management of MMM group, coordinating and executing highly complex projects promptly. The services of MMM range from planning and consulting to delivery and installation of medical equipment up to after sales service. Increasingly important are so-called peripheral services for sterile processing departments which are subject to a multitude of legal requirements. Apart from capacity analyses, necessary for hospitals to work cost-efficiently, such organizations must also meet high quality demands. Hospitals are well advised to turn to experts such as MMM. In Germany, MMM is the market leader in process validation producing cycles and documentation conforming to standards. But MMM also knows ways of process optimization leading to CSSD certifications and to saving of money, time and resources.

The MMM sales team offers even more: on fairs, congresses and symposia, MMM makes their expertise available for everybody involved in sterile processing. MMM people are active members of many committees and associations issuing standards and guidelines that are relevant not only in Germany but all over Europe.

Thanks to the sound specialization of MMM, customers and authorities trust in MMM and MMM staff.
