First Gameplay Footage For First Person Survival Adventure Game Released Today

Frankfurt, April 21, 2016 – UK startup studio Burning Arrow Ltd. has teamed up with Deck13 (Lords of the Fallen, The Surge) to release their ambitious debut title, The Other 99.

The first person survival adventure will be released on PlayStation4, Xbox One and PC, starting with an Early Access release this July. First footage of the game is now available on Steam.

Jan Klose (Managing Director, Deck13): “We’re very happy that our publishing branch, Deck13 Games, is taking off, and that we’ve earned the trust of the talented people at Burning Arrow. We’ll help them to reach a big audience with their unique and creative game.”

Thomas Brown (Co-owner, Burning Arrow): “We are very excited about our debut title, The Other 99, and are thankful to Deck13 for spotting its potential. We look forward to their continued support and can’t wait to bring out more information in the coming months.”

In The Other 99, players find themselves on an island with nothing but a note which reads, “the only way off the island is through the other 99.” Each enemy NPC is just as desperate to survive as you, and will stop at nothing to achieve their goal.... The game features brutal visceral combat, story driven exploration and stealth elements.
